

Lisa Brickell
(1997~98)

I worked at LIOJ from 1997 to 1998 and I have great memories of LIOJ, Asia Center, Odawara, and Japan as a whole.

One of the many highlights of my job at LIOJ was teaching disco dancing, in particular, the Brooklyn Hustle, to students on the High School Intensive Program—All those John Travolta lookalikes strutting their stuff!!!

Another fond memory is being involved in the Summer Workshops of '97 and '98. At the earlier workshop, I met Colin Granger, who has a similar interest in both EFL and drama. I spent the last year working with him in Brighton, in the UK.

Thank you for the fantastic opportunity to work at LIOJ and all the best for its future success.
